Blue Ridge Regional Hospital Honors Volunteers

Blue Ridge Regional Hospital retiring volunteers Lucille Cook and Ruth Buchanan were honored at a reception held on February 4th, 2008.

Ruth Buchanan volunteered for 22 years in the radiology department where she assisted patients with paperwork and helped make them feel more comfortable and relaxed before their procedure.

Lucille Cook volunteered for 23 years, first in the business office, then moving to the pharmacy where she delivered medications throughout the hospital. She completed her volunteer activities in the radiology department.

“Both the patients and staff benefited from Ruth and Lucille’s 45 years of dedicated service,” said Robin Nichols, nurse-manager for the radiology department. We thank them for their years of compassionate care and service and hope they enjoy their much-deserved retirement. They will be sorely missed.”
